Pentagon Quiet In Uneasy Truce But Axe Is Out

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE

Washington, Oct. 24 (P)—An uneasy truce settled over the Pentagon today in the wake of congressional airing of bitter policy differences among the armed services.

But the quiet along the Potomac seemed more illusory than real.

Hardly had the House armed services committee recessed than its hearings against a top-placed official of the defense establishment hinted the axe was out for Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations.

Denfeld fired the final broadside for the Navy in its case against the joint chiefs of staff. He summed up Navy complaints

British Tighten Up Belts Again

Attlee Reveals New Austerity Plans

London, Oct. 24 (P)—Prime Minister Attlee slashed dollar spending and defense costs and cut down on free medical services today to ease Britain's economic crisis.

The prime minister laid before the House of Commons a program which will mean that some food costs for hungry, rationed Britons will rise.

Attlee told the House of Commons he estimated cuts would save £280,000,000 (£784,000,000) in Britain's 1949-1950 budget. The budget totals £3,300,000,000. The British pound now is worth $2.80. It was devalued from $4.03 on Sept. 18.

Attlee said £30,000,000 of the savings will be in armed forces expenses.

The leader of the Labor government announced he had slapped a fee on the bold and expensive public health service instituted by his party in July, 1948. From now on, patients must pay a shilling (14 cents) for prescriptions. Hitherto prescriptions have been free. Britons now pay a small weekly social security tax, of which eightpence (about 10 cents) goes to the medical service. Other taxes pay for the remainder of the program.

The prime minister also lopped millions from government administration expenses and capital expenditures for new buildings, hospitals, schools and public works.

Arab State Of Iraq Accused Of Torturing And Arresting Jews

Tel Aviv, Israel, Oct. 24 (P)—An Israel foreign office spokesman has accused the neighboring Arab state of Iraq of arresting and torturing Jewish men and women there.

He said yesterday the Israeli government has asked the United States and Britain to intervene in Baghdad, the Iraqi capital. The spokesman gave this account of what he termed the persecution of many Jews in Iraq.

Reliable news reaching the Israeli government during the last three weeks indicated Jews were arrested, their property seized and the internees were held in a concentration camp in Amara, south of Baghdad. The detained Jews were accused of belonging to the Zionist movement and to organizations which help Iraqi Jews flee to Israel.

For the time being, the spokesman said, Israel was abstaining from bringing the matter before the United Nations.

Troubles At Gas Plant Corrected: BTU Content Low

Troubles at the city gas plant that have caused a sharp increase in customer complaints the past two weeks have been located and corrected, it was reported this morning.

A large number of service calls has been received by the gas department. The trouble has been traced primarily to a family BTU measuring device which indicated the BTU content of the gas was higher than it actually was. As a result less oil was used in the manufacture of the gas, which reduced the BTU content and caused acceleration of calls for service.

The automatic gas making unit has been taken out of service temporarily for cleaning, and the manually operated set is now being used.

Squaw Point

Light Damaged

Glass In Tower Is Pierced By Bullets

The U. S. Coast Guard light-house at Squaw Point on the shore of Little Bay de Noc opposite Gladstone was damaged Saturday by gunfire from hunters, who broke three panes of glass in the tower and extinguished the light. Report of the shooting was made today by Dan Garrett, officer in charge of the light at Escanaba and Squaw Point. Garrett said that the light has been damaged by bullets a number of times in the past few years and that the Cleveland district office of the Coast Guard is being requested to establish an intermittent patrol for protection of the light at Squaw Point.

Besides putting 15 bullet holes through the quarter-inch-thick glass, the hunters broke open the door of the tower and entered the lighthouse building. In the past the lens in the light, valued at $350, has been broken by bullets. Saturday the lens was nicked.

Garrett pointed out that the persons who entered the lighthouse left matches and cigarette stubs. The light is fueled with acetylene gas, which is highly explosive. To light a match in the building after shooting the light out could have resulted in an explosion "that would have blown them sky high," Garrett said.

The light was not repaired and in service again until 11 p. m. Saturday, causing an oil tanker at Kipling to be delayed in leaving the harbor.

Penalties for the destruction of government property provide a maximum of 10 years in prison upon conviction.

Edmund Depatie Killed By Car

Sun Blinds Driver Near Carney, Mich.

Edmund Depatie, 74, retired Menominee farmer, was killed instantly at 7:05 a.m., today on Menominee County road 374, a mile west of Carney. Depatie was walking along the road on the right side and was hit by a car driven by Joseph Schetter of Carney, a neighbor, who was also going east up the hill.

Schetter told officers of the Menominee sheriff's department, who investigated, that he was blinded by the sun as he came up the hill and did not see Depatie. Schetter is not being held.

The body was removed to the Dicke Funeral Home in Stephenson. Arrangements have not been completed. Survivors include seven children and his wife, Rose.

Four Persons Killed In Kansas Argument Over Child's Custody

Blair, Kas., Oct. 24 (AP)—A brief argument between divorced parents over custody of a child ended in the fatal shooting of four persons and the wounding of a fifth.

A coroner's jury today classified two of the deaths as murder and two as self defense.

The shooting occurred Saturday in the farm home of Oscar Wilmann Tarter, 58.

Officers said Galen Wood, 29, had demanded his ex-wife, the daughter of Tarter, give him custody of one of their two children. Mrs. Wood refused. The parents were divorced last week.

The coroner's jury ruled Wood killed Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sharp, of Elwood, Kas., who were visiting Tarter. Tarter and Wood also were killed.

The jury ruled they died in a scuffle over guns. It said Wood and Tarter each shot the other twice. The jury called their deaths self defense because it could not determine which shots were fired first.

Frank Freiburg, Bern, Kas., who also was visiting Tarter, was wounded. His condition was reported as fair.

Mrs. Wood, grazed by a bullet, fell to the floor and pretended to be dead until the shooting stopped.

Gunman Who Killed Policeman Waits In Kentucky Deathhouse

Eddyville, Ky., Oct. 24 (AP)—Tennessee gunman Earl Bircham was in Kentucky's death house today awaiting his scheduled execution March 18 for the killing of a Louisville patrolman.

Bircham had been sought in connection with a series of bank and store robberies in Tennessee and other Southern points before he was caught at Louisville in August following a gun battle with police. He was formally sentenced in Louisville yesterday.

He was denied a request to see his wife, accused as an accessory in the cop killing, and was taken by heavily armed guards to the state prison here to be placed in the death house.

Bircham was convicted Oct. 11 at Louisville for the slaying of Patrolman John Tennyson. He was granted an appeal to the Kentucky court of appeals.

Tennyson and another officer, John Ross, recognized Bircham when they caught him going the wrong way on a one-way street Aug. 14. They chased him until he ran his automobile into a tree. The gun battle followed. Tennyson was killed and Ross was injured.

Bircham was captured later by an unarmed former Marine who left his home to investigate the shooting.

Kaiser Gets Loan Of $10,000,000 And Lays Off 5,000 Men

Detroit, Oct. 24 (AP)—Close on the heels of a $10,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corp., Kaiser-Frazer Corp. today began its announced layoff of 5,000 production workers.

The company refused comment on the layoff, the third in recent weeks, except to say that it was for a "temporary period."

A company spokesman said the action did not result from the steel strike and was not for model changeovers. The other two shutdowns were attributed to "inventory adjustments."

The $10,000,000 loan, the second this month brought the total borrowed by K-F this year to $69,000,000. Earlier this month, the agency granted the firm a $34,000,000 loan. The company had sought $15,000,000 on the second loan but this was cut to $10,000,- challenged the Soviet government to offer a "better and more effective plan."

This was a new notice that the United States will continue building up its stockpile of atomic bombs until controls are guaranteed. The Russians have insisted on outlawing the bomb as a preliminary to discussion of controls.

Expansion Goes Ahead

Meanwhile, the Atomic Energy commission went ahead with a $300,000,000 expansion program involving increased facilities at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., plants. Mr. Truman told a news conference Thursday the plans were under consideration long before the Russians produced their explosion.

The president also laid heavy emphasis today on the importance to peace of:

1. Technical assistance and capital investment in underdeveloped areas where "at least half of mankind lives in dire poverty."

He promised to ask Congress in January to "give high priority to proposals which will make possible additional technical assistance and capital investment" in such areas.

2. Attaining basic civil and political rights "for men and women everywhere—without regard to race, language or religion."

He further expressed the hope that eventually "every nation on earth will be a fully qualified and loyal member of the United Nations."

Young Cafe Society Figure Found Shot In Girl's Bedroom

Houston, Oct. 24 (AP)—Allen Thomas Sturges, youthful New York Cafe society figure, was in critical condition today from a bullet wound in the head which police said was self-inflicted.

The 26-year-old man was found shot late Saturday in the bedroom of a pretty airline employee. Police said he apparently broke into the room while Miss Marion Yturria, 23, was away.

Miss Yturria said she met Sturges only last Tuesday. Police said one of three notes written by Sturges and found on him was addressed to Miss Yturria. They said it expressed endearments and regrets.

Sturges was found shot as Brownsville, Tex., officers sought him on two felony warrants. He was slumped in a chair when Miss Yturria and two other young women entered the room.

Manitowoc Officer Wounded In Gunfight With Flint Parolee

Municipal Judge O. T. Bredeisen remanded Howard Weston of Flint to county jail without bond and set Nov. 8 for sentencing.

Meanwhile, Officer Eugene Koepke, 36, was reported improved. He was critically wounded early last Thursday in a gunfight that started when he approached two men loitering near a filling station.

Koepke wounded Weston after he had been shot down. Weston's wound was not serious.

Bircham was captured later by an unarmed former Marine who left his home to investigate the shooting.

Rotary Hears Swiss Speaker

Mrs. Lanz Tells Of Homeland

Switzerland is a country of four and one-half million persons who love liberty and have it, along with a neutrality that is dictated not by fear but the knowledge that in neutrality its people can best serve nations that fight for liberty and justice.

These were the observations of Mrs. Frans Lanz, of near Berne, Switzerland, in a talk today to the Escanaba Rotary club. Mrs. Lanz is in Escanaba with her husband, who is observing wood utilization methods in the United States and is now studying operations at the Birds Eye Veneer company.

The Swiss people would be unable to keep their independence were they drawn into a battle between two great neighbors, Mrs. Lanz pointed out.

"Liberty today is an extensible term," Mrs. Lanz pointed out. "Every government affirms that its citizens live in liberty. But I think I dare say, the Swiss citizens and the American citizens, really do so. Liberty of press and of faith are unlimited."

The United States constitution was the model for the century-old constitution adopted by the Swiss. The franchise is exercised by all citizens over 20 — yet it does not extend to women.

"Some of our customs persist, and one of them is that the wife's place is in the home," Mrs. Lanz smiled. "The husbands feel that the bowling alley, the talking of politics in the tavern, is a meeting place not fit for a decent woman."

In spite of all the differences in custom, however, Mrs. Lanz declared that the spirit of the people of Switzerland and the United States is very much alike. The free educational systems and the continued striving for liberty and justice are similar in both countries.

When the agreements are signed here, we'll send teams of American political, economic and military experts to each of the other eight countries. There, with the European experts, they'll work out in detail what each country needs or wants and what we can send.

The talks will take weeks; they are being figured on to be finished by Dec. 1. So a real flow of arms to Europe may not start before Jan. 1.

In addition to the $1,000,000,000 for Europe, congress voted $314,010,000 in help for Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea, The Philippines.

Early fair weather with near seasonal temperatures. The northern Great Lakes region had light snow flurries.

Child Injured In Fall From Car

Robert Taylor, three-year-old son of Mrs. Jane Taylor and Lambert Taylor, suffered head injuries and bruises when he fell from a car in which he was riding with his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Taylor, and his father Sunday afternoon near L'Anse. The child was treated by a physician there and returned to the home of his mother, 314 South 14th street.

Stock Crash Back

astronomical figure.

Stock prices advanced until many were simply absurd in relation to the ability of a given company to earn money and pay dividends.

The first intimations that something was wrong came in the week which ended Oct. 19, 1929. That was a bad week for the market—but not too bad. The bull market had paused before it was nothing serious.

The market rallied for a while but on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 28 and 29, the climax was reached.

Stocks of the country's leading industries collapsed. Sales on "Black Tuesday" totaled more than 16,000,000 shares. The ticker tape ran hours after the close of the market. Grim brokers and their staffs worked far into the night.

That was the day the insiders, the big money men, the millionaires, saw their fortunes melt away. The little fellows had already been sold out. The big fellows lasted a few days longer.

An era of prosperity, and of speculation, greed and manipulation ended in the nightmare of those October days. That October, too, was the curtain-raiser for a new set of values, a new kind of thinking, not in Wall Street alone but in every city and town in the land.

The stock market of today has come a long way from the market of 1929. The past 20 years have been a period of purification, a process often bitterly resisted but never stopped.

The stock exchange itself has been reorganized from top to bottom—after its president went to jail for using money that didn't belong to him. Some old-timers claim that stock trading, like a reformed criminal, is not quite so interesting as it used to be—and they may be right. But the interest of the public is protected now as it never was before.

Wall Street is still a whipping boy when "the interests" have to be damned. The financial district, though, has a sense of responsibility which did not exist in 1929.

The Securities & Exchange commission, created by Congress, is the watchdog of the securities business. The SEC has a keen eye and a long probing finger. It is respected as well as feared. For a long while it was hated.

The 1929 crash left a scar on the nation's investors which is still visible. A generation has grown up with a profound distrust for the operations of Wall Street.

The stock exchange is engaged now in a campaign to persuade people that it's a good idea to buy stocks for investment—not for speculation.

Council Will Act

On Voting Machines

THE Escanaba city council will decide at its next meeting whether to purchase voting machines for local use. The survey of election problems made by City Clerk George Harvey recommended voting machines in Escanaba and indicated that such machines would be required to handle the voting load in the eight precincts.

The total cost would be in the neighborhood of $25,000 which, with a down payment of $2,500, would be liquidated in nine years.

Voting machines are far beyond the experimental stage. They have been used with great success by many cities throughout the country for periods of 40 years or more. The City of Ironwood, in the Upper Peninsula, has used voting machines since 1933 and the City of Wakefield has used them for 19 years.

The report of the Escanaba city clerk indicates that voting machines would result in a savings of approximately $1,500 per year over the present more costly system of handling paper ballots. This is computed on the basis of four elections every two years.

The economy factor of voting machines, of course, is an important one but the most important single argument in support of voting machines is that they guarantee that each elector's ballot will be cast exactly as he desires it. The problem of spoiled ballots—and lost votes—is completely eliminated.

In the recount of ballots in the city election of 1948, the number of ballots thrown out because of irregularities was particularly significant. Ballots with identifying markings, improper checks, etc., etc., etc., were necessarily shoved aside without being tabulated. A lot of people who voted in that election never had their ballots counted. This simply could not happen in an election where the votes were recorded on tabulated by voting machines.

Another extremely important advantage of the voting machine is the complete accuracy of the count. The tabulations for every candidate are available immediately when the polls close and when absent voters' ballots are recorded. There is no human factor of tabulation errors.

Finally, the problem of recounts is licked with the voting machines. A recount consists only of a simple process of re-checking the totals, a matter requiring only a few moments in each precinct.

It has been indicated in the report of the city clerk that the installation of voting machines will eliminate the necessity of establishing new voting precincts in Escanaba because electors can vote faster on a voting machine than they mark paper ballots. Escanaba's present voting precincts are too large to conform to state law, which limits the number of voters in a single precinct to 650 when paper ballots are used. No such limitation exists where voting machines are utilized.

In the 1948 presidential election, one-third of the ballots in the nation were cast on voting machines. By 1952, it is estimated that half of the ballots will be recorded on voting machines.

New Weapon For Law Officers

WAYNE County Circuit Judge Vincent Brennan has given law enforcement officers a powerful weapon in enforcing the liquor laws. If the decision he rendered Friday in a Detroit case is sustained by higher legal authorities.

Judge Brennan ruled that a reluctant witness may be compelled to testify where he made illegal beer or liquor purchases and that failure to do so justifies a citation for contempt of court.

The importance of this decision must be apparent to every law enforcement officer. Many times local officials, for instance, have sought to learn from minors involved in drinking cases where they purchased their liquor or beer, only to be foiled by a refusal of the witness to testify.

With an apparent increase in youthful drinking, the enforcement officers need some new weapons to cope with the problem. Such a weapon has been made available to them by the decision of Judge Brennan. The liquor law sets the age of minors at 21 years but youths 17 or over may be dealt with in justice or circuit courts instead of juvenile courts. A youth 19 or 20 years old thus may face a jail term for contempt of court by his refusal to testify where he made illegal liquor purchases. It is probable that many reluctant witnesses will break their silence in the face of such consequences.

Exports Subsidy Plan Broadens

THE Brannan farm plan has been rejected by congress as an undesirable national farm policy but a watered-down version of the Brannan plan is being invoked for shipment of food surpluses abroad at cut-rate prices. In effect the government is subsidizing the consumers of foreign lands.

Right now foreign buyers can get fresh apples and winter pears considerably cheaper than domestic buyers. The exporter buys at the going market price, sells the stuff abroad at cut-rate prices and collects from Uncle Sam, by way of subsidy, an amount equal to the difference in the selling price and support price.

The purpose of the subsidy, according to the administration, is to help get some of the price-depressing surplus out of the country so that prices will advance to desired levels.

The export subsidy program is expected to expand during the months ahead, including such commodities as dried eggs and dried milk and perhaps later pork and lard will be added.

From the standpoint of the American consumer, there appears to be something screwy about a system that holds food prices at an artificially high level, forces the consumers to pay a second time in taxes for such supports and then uses American tax dollars to subsidize cheap food abroad.

CIO Moves Against Its Red Unions

LAST May the CIO ordered the Communist Farm Equipment Workers Union to merge with the powerful but non-leftist United Auto Workers. The objective was to crush the equipment union's red-tinted leadership.

The FEW refused, however, to obey the CIO edict. Now it has carried defiance a step further by merging instead with the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, generally recognized as the most strongly leftist major union in the country.

According to reports, Grant Oakes, president of the farm tool union, will gain a seat on the UEW's executive board, a prize he could never have hoped for in a merger with the UAW under Walter Reuther's leadership.

This move makes it a foregone conclusion that the CIO, in its coming convention in Cleveland, will revoke the charter of the Communist Farm Equipment Workers Union to merge with the powerful but non-leftist United Auto Workers. The objective was to crush the equipment union's red-tinted leadership.

They are doing that today. It is because visiting Americans ignore this background, in their determination to put the Finns in the framework of the cold war, that they do a disservice to Finland.

They see the Finnish people as a miraculously hardy Daniel in a den of Russian lions.

In order to get into the act, they feel they must prod the lions and make them roar.

Roughly Daniel does not altogether appreciate this attention.

Actually, the Finnish achievement is much greater than this naive attitude implies. It is the achievement of national unity and national strength in the face of overwhelming obstacles and dangers and in spite of real political and economic differences among the Finns themselves.

A prime example was the way in which the government—and most of the people—stood up against the Communist-inspired strike in the wood industry last summer.

The electrical workers and some others apparently intend to fight ouster from the CIO. We can't imagine at this stage of the battle how they can stay in the parent organization without bowing to its orders.

If they show signs of ridding themselves of the Communist taint, the CIO should be certain that the actions are more than surface maneuvers which actually would leave their leftist characters unchanged.

If they maintain open defiance this leftists should be thrown out on their own. They don't deserve the shelter of the CIO. They should be thrust into an isolated status where they can be seen clearly for what they are.

Dealing with the Communists and their sympathizers has never been an easy problem for the CIO. The unions led by these elements add measurably to the CIO's numerical strength. It is perfectly natural the organization should be reluctant to yield the weight these numbers represent in national influence.

What is notable today is the recovery that has come about through unity and heroic national effort. The Russians levied $300,000,000 in reparations and this, mind you, in a country of 4,000,000 people. The sum was later reduced to $226,500,000. It has all been paid off, except for about $25,000,000, in goods sent to Russia.

The evidence of healthy, vital reconstruction can be seen everywhere. Since the end of the war, a children's hospital and clinic have been built here that for modernity and clean, bright attractiveness would put most American hospitals to shame.

A large new school is going up in the center of Helsingfors that would be the envy of any American city. In the lower schools, which are free, there are only 24 pupils on the average to a teacher and in the high schools, most of which are free, 18 pupils for each teacher.

Married women will tell you that men help most with house cleaning when they stay away from home.

Three Michigan boys swiped a brand new sedan. We know where they're heading—eventually.

A Tennessee man had his trousers torn off in a traffic accident. He was left just short of total embarrassment.

SOME GOOD WORDS TO KNOW

The French loan word emigre means, "an emigrant who flees to escape political persecution." The French is: ay-mee-gray. In American English the usual pronunciation is: EM-uh-gree, or, in careful speech: EM-uh-gray.

Effeite is widely misused in the meaning, "sophisticated; very superior culturally and socially."

The correct meaning is, "exhausted and barren; no longer capable of giving birth;" hence, by extension, worn out; devoid of vigor or energy.

Effeite is pronounced: eh-FEET.

Do not confuse coma with comma, as a Hollywood gossip reporter did in broadcasting the news that a certain screen star had been in a "comma" for 48 hours.

A coma is a state of prolonged unconsciousness, pronounced: KOE-muh.

A comma is a punctuation mark (,), pronounced: KOM-uh.

A compote is a dish of fruit stewed in a syrup: KOM-poht. A compost is a composition or compound, especially a mixture of dead leaves, grass and hedge clippings, barnyard manure, etc., which, after being left to rot, is used as fertilizer. The pronunciation is: KOM-pohst.

With an apparent increase in youthful drinking, the enforcement officers need some new weapons to cope with the problem. Such a weapon has been made available to them by the decision of Judge Brennan. The liquor law sets the age of minors at 21 years but youths 17 or over may be dealt with in justice or circuit courts instead of juvenile courts. A youth 19 or 20 years old thus may face a jail term for contempt of court by his refusal to testify where he made illegal liquor purchases. It is probable that many reluctant witnesses will break their silence in the face of such consequences.

Exports Subsidy Plan Broadens

THE Brannan farm plan has been rejected by congress as an undesirable national farm policy but a watered-down version of the Brannan plan is being invoked for shipment of food surpluses abroad at cut-rate prices. In effect the gov-

Finland Makes Good Recovery

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Helsingfors, Finland.—For a decade now, with one interruption, American newspaper correspondents have been flying into Finland for a quick look at the little country on the doorstep of Russia. Their attitude has varied with the changing winds of world conflict.

Ten years ago, during the winter war, the Finns were brave heroes resisting in the bloodstained snow the brutal Russian aggressors. Then in the period when the Finns became allies of Germany against a common foe, they were Fascists or, at best, Nazi fellow travelers.

The export subsidy program is expected to expand during the months ahead, including such commodities as dried eggs and dried milk and perhaps later pork and lard will be added.

From the standpoint of the American consumer, there appears to be something screwy about a system that holds food prices at an artificially high level, forces the consumers to pay a second time in taxes for such supports and then uses American tax dollars to subsidize cheap food abroad.

THE error may have its origin in that unfortunate phrase—Iron Curtain—itself. One thing the curtain does protect and that is a great American ignorance about the complexities and varieties of life on the other side of the east-west boundary. It is much easier to fall back on a catch phrase.

NOT BEHIND CURTAIN

This applies with special force to Finland. First and foremost, Finland is not behind any curtain. Second, the Finns during the past ten years have been just what they have been for a very long time.

That is to say they are hardy, courageous people with an unflagging belief in their right to independence. With tenacity and skill they have defended that right for more than a century against the threatening and often real hostility of the Russian colossus.

They are doing that today. It is because visiting Americans ignore this background, in their determination to put the Finns in the framework of the cold war, that they do a disservice to Finland.

They see the Finnish people as a miraculously hardy Daniel in a den of Russian lions. In order to get into the act, they feel they must prod the lions and make them roar.

Roughly Daniel does not altogether appreciate this attention.

Actually, the Finnish achievement is much greater than this naive attitude implies. It is the achievement of national unity and national strength in the face of overwhelming obstacles and dangers and in spite of real political and economic differences among the Finns themselves.

A prime example was the way in which the government—and most of the people—stood up against the Communist-inspired strike in the wood industry last summer.

The electrical workers and some others apparently intend to fight ouster from the CIO. We can't imagine at this stage of the battle how they can stay in the parent organization without bowing to its orders.

If they show signs of ridding themselves of the Communist taint, the CIO should be certain that the actions are more than surface maneuvers which actually would leave their leftist characters unchanged.

If they maintain open defiance this leftists should be thrown out on their own. They don't deserve the shelter of the CIO. They should be thrust into an isolated status where they can be seen clearly for what they are.

Dealing with the Communists and their sympathizers has never been an easy problem for the CIO. The unions led by these elements add measurably to the CIO's numerical strength. It is perfectly natural the organization should be reluctant to yield the weight these numbers represent in national influence.

But if they maintain open defiance this leftists should be thrown out on their own. They don't deserve the shelter of the CIO. They should be thrust into an isolated status where they can be seen clearly for what they are.

It is perfectly natural the organization should be reluctant to yield the weight these numbers represent in national influence.

What is notable today is the recovery that has come about through unity and heroic national effort. The Russians levied $300,000,000 in reparations and this, mind you, in a country of 4,000,000 people. The sum was later reduced to $226,500,000. It has all been paid off, except for about $25,000,000, in goods sent to Russia.

The evidence of healthy, vital reconstruction can be seen everywhere. Since the end of the war, a children's hospital and clinic have been built here that for modernity and clean, bright attractiveness would put most American hospitals to shame.

A large new school is going up in the center of Helsingfors that would be the envy of any American city. In the lower schools, which are free, there are only 24 pupils on the average to a teacher and in the high schools, most of which are free, 18 pupils for each teacher.

Married women will tell you that men help most with house cleaning when they stay away from home.

Three Michigan boys swiped a brand new sedan. We know where they're heading—eventually.

A Tennessee man had his trousers torn off in a traffic accident. He was left just short of total embarrassment.

An Indiana man, hit on the head with a hammer, lost his voice. Radio crooners beware!

Consider the aged auto tire—and don't go around blowing yourself up!

4 Techniques Effective In Labor Conciliation

By DR. FRANCIS BRADSHAW

Copyright, 1949, by Science Service
Experience in conciliation in cases of labor strife and also marital relations and other types of friction show that four techniques are effective.

1. The disputing parties may be brought together to tell their troubles to a counsel. The counsel refrains from telling them what to do, but directs the discussion in such a way that the parties concerned think out their own course and arrive at their own agreement.

This technique, known as "non-directive counseling," has proved very effective also in the treatment of the mentally disturbed, whose conflict is internal.

The difficulty in applying this method in industrial disputes is that in order for it to work, the counsel must be invited or sought out by both parties. In an industrial dispute, one or both sides may lack any desire to arrive at a settlement.

2. The second technique is to tell the disputing parties to try this or that so that they will arrive at their own solution through experiment. This technique also works better in reconciling married partners than industrial associates.

3. The third technique is to arrange a change in the conditions which are instrumental in producing the friction. Thus a change in economic or political conditions might make it easier for industrial strife to come to peaceful solution.

4. The fourth technique is to change the attitudes of the key individuals toward themselves and toward each other. It has not been widely used because it is so difficult to achieve. It is very difficult to change an adult's way of looking at things, his notions of what he wants to get out of life, his feeling toward other men. Still it is not impossible.

Here are some of the ways attitudes can be changed.

One way to change a man's attitudes (and it is obvious in this case that somebody must change) is to search out the facts of the dispute by scientific methods.

Both sides in any industrial dispute must rely for strength in the show-down on the support of their constituencies and some of the public. Yet neither one actually knows what the men behind him really want. A scientifically conducted survey of what is wanted and needed by the stockholders, management, and the public would show each the limits of support on his side and just what he might concede without betraying his trust.

Psychological research and practical application in industry has demonstrated the value of "vertically organized" round-table discussion for producing attitude changes necessary to bring about industrial conciliation and peace.

This means bringing together not just the two top men in the dispute, but representatives of all the levels all the way down to the foreman who has direct contact with the workers and the shop steward who is the worker's adviser in dealing with management.

Schaffer Pioneer
Dies At Age Of 87

Alphonse Derocher, 87, pioneer resident of the Schaffer community where he had lived for the past 70 years, died Saturday evening at St. Francis hospital. He had been in good health until a month ago.

He was born in St. Calixte, Province of Quebec, Canada, January 18, 1862, and came to the United States when he was 17 years old. He held a number of township offices and was a trustee of Sacred Heart church at the time it was built. He also belonged to the Holy Name society of the church.

His wife died in 1937.

Surviving are three sons and one daughter, Fred J. of Bark River, Eugene of Schaffer, Emile of West Allis, Wis., and Sister Mary Rose Beatrix of Ajo, Ariz., two sisters, Mrs. Cordelia Leveille of Schaffer and Mrs. Camille Lenore of Montreal, 22 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.

The body is in state at the Boyle funeral home at Bark River where the rosary will be recited at 8 this evening. Services will be held at 9 Tuesday at Sacred Heart church, Rev. Wilfred Pelletier officiating and burial will be in Sacred Heart cemetery.

It is time that we realized that a government, like a family, will go broke if it continues to spend more money than it receives.

—Republican national committee-man Jouett Ross Todd.

that the words basic to the discussion are not understood by those involved. In one situation, tests revealed that the average supervisor failed to understand 30 per cent of the words used in the contract under controversy. The average union's shop steward missed 70 per cent. Attitude tests given before and after discussion show that the participants do change their attitudes as a result of frank discussion in such a round table.

What is needed to prevent strikes is the determination by management to use systematically what is known to science. They must realize that human nature is as real and important in their business as are dollars invested or machines and materials. They should pay as much attention and spend as much money on research in human and personnel relations as they do on product research.

Tension and hostility must be located and reduced before it piles up like static charges to produce an explosion and uncontrollable catastrophe.

This means bringing together not just the two top men in the dispute, but representatives of all the levels all the way down to the foreman who has direct contact with the workers and the shop steward who is the worker's adviser in dealing with management.

Meeting At School In Eagle Harbor

Grand Lodge officers of the Knights of Pythias of Michigan will hold a meeting Friday evening, Nov. 11, in the old school house at Eagle Harbor where Justus Rathbone wrote the ritual of the order while a teacher in that school during the winter of 1860-61.

Grand Chancellor Smith of Pontiac, Grand Vice Chancellor Jarvie of Sault Ste. Marie, Grand Prelate Buckley of Muskegon, Grand Outer Guard Miller of Charlevoix and Director of Progress Rev. Dr. H. B. Johnson of Lakeview, assisted by members of the order from Marquette, Iron Mountain, Ishpeming and Laurium will conduct the ceremonies of initiation, the candidates being residents of Eagle Harbor.

Walter Gries of Ishpeming, superintendent of the welfare department of the Cleveland Cliffs Company and former warden of Marquette prison and member of the state welfare board for ten years will be the first chancellor commander of the new lodge. Judge of Probate Austin Raley will be the vice chancellor.

The ceremony to be held in this old building will be unique as it will be the first lodge meeting held in the place that for long has been regarded as a Shrine of Pythianism. The old desks of the days of Justus Rathbone are still there and nothing has been changed except to keep the place in repair. Kerosene lanterns will be used for illumination for this meeting and the knife-carved desks will be used for the officers' stations.

The By-laws of the order provide that members in good standing in one lodge can become members of another lodge and be known as Dual Members. The fee is smaller than in the first lodge he joined. The office of Director of Progress Johnson is being besieged by letters and telegrams from members who desire to become dual members of the Rathbone number 64, the name given in honor of the founder and the number representing 1864 when the order was started in Washington, D. C.

NICKNAMED

Marquette's First Ore Dock Erected In 1855

Marquette Harbor, Michigan, is situated on the southern shore of Lake Superior, 160 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and 256 miles east of Duluth, Minn. In its natural condition it was a semi-elliptical indentation, facing toward the east and protected from all storms except those from the east and northeast.

Early History

The first civilized community near Marquette was known as Indian Town and was situated about three miles south of the present city. This settlement shifted to the north and, after the establishment of Marquette Township in 1847, the first settlement within the present city limits was made in 1849. The growth of this community is the result of the union of vast natural resources with a natural harbor on a splendid waterway. Although the lumber industry in the hardwoods covering the rugged hills surrounding Marquette has been an important commercial asset, it is the trade in minerals, chiefly iron, which has been its lifeblood.

Until 1855 all shipments from Marquette to harbors on the lower lakes had to be portaged at Sault Ste. Marie. This portage was a great impediment to the trade in ore and gave rise to the many early efforts to establish forges at Marquette. In 1854, the cost of mining iron ore at the Jackson mine, ten miles from Marquette, was fifty cents per ton; it cost $3.00 per ton to freight the ore by sleds or wagons from the mine to the port and at the wharves the prevailing price paid by ore dealers was $3.00 per ton. In 1855 the first "railroad" was opened from the mines to the wharves. The rails were plain sleepers and the motive power was donkeys.

Soo Locks Spur Shipments

With the opening of the first locks at the Soo in 1855 the shipment of ore began to increase and the processing of ore at Marquette was virtually abandoned. From the small beginning of 3,000 pounds of ore in barrels shipped in 1852 the trade developed to nearly a half-million tons annually by 1874. The donkey railroad was replaced, in turn, by a narrow gauge railroad and a standard gauge. By 1867 the railroad network had expanded to connect Marquette with points along the northern shore of Lake Michigan.

In the early days of Marquette harbor, storms from the east and northeast were a menace to shipping and, upon the approach of these storms, vessels in the harbor had to put out into the lake promptly to avoid destruction. At one time the drastic measure of moving the port and all its established facilities three miles to the northwest to a harbor opposite Partridge Island was given serious consideration. However, in 1868 the Federal Government began construction of a breakwater which has been extended several times to its present length of 4,500 feet. The harbor now contains one ore dock, a modern coal dock and a number of other wharves. The area protected by the breakwater is about 350 acres.

Ore Docks

There have been a total of five ore docks built at the Marquette harbor, part of the city of Marquette, the first being constructed in 1855 by the Cleveland Iron Mining Co. and operated until 1883 as Cleveland Dock No. 2. In 1864 the Bay de Nocet & Marquette Railroad Co. built an ore dock which was sold in 1868 to the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon RR. In 1891 this dock changed ownership and became known as the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic RR. Ore Dock No. 5. It was abandoned in 1930. The Duluth, Mackinac & Marquette RR. built their Ore Dock No. 1 in 1880. This dock changed ownership in 1887 and was called D. S. S. & A. RR. Ore Dock No. 1. This dock was converted to a merchandise dock in 1916.

The Marquette & Western RR. built an ore dock on Marquette harbor in 1886 which was taken over in 1889 by the D. S. S. & A. and called Ore Dock No. 4. This dock ceased operations in 1906. The present ore dock of the D. S. S. & A. RR. (Dock No. 6) is of steel and concrete construction and was built in 1931.

Presque Isle Harbor

In 1895 the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. was organized to compete with the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railroad Co. for the ore transportation business. At this time the breakwater at Marquette was only 3,000 feet long and the existing terminal facilities consisting of four ore docks, two lumber

3,653,589 gross tons, 4.41%, was handled by the Lake Superior & Ishpeming RR. over its dock at Presque Isle harbor, and 437,839 gross tons, 0.53%, was shipped over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic RR. dock at Marquette harbor.

Marquette is the third largest American city on Lake Superior, being exceeded in population only by Duluth and Superior.

Prehistoric Pits

Remains of much of North America's prehistoric animal life have been recovered well preserved from the La Brea tar pits, Los Angeles, Calif.

Clark Mill At Head Of Little Bay Was Second In County, Says Sawyer

(Part 3. History of Lumbering in Delta County)

By CARL J. SAWYER

Apparently the first mill built at the head of Little Bay de Noc on the Whitefish River was by Darius Clark, who had worked for the Smith Brothers on the Escanaba River.

U. S. Survey notes mention a mill pond in Section 15 Town 41 Range 21, and this mill on the Whitefish river must have been shortly after the mill on the Escanaba, since the survey was made about 1845 and the mill was there before that date.

The Vietzke Brothers, who have a farm north of Rapid River, have some of the machinery from this old mill which came out of the river.

The mill was abandoned about 1849 after it had been purchased by Richard Mason and his partner, Mr. Holt. About that time Mason and Holt built a steam-powered mill at Masonville (probably the first steam mill). This was on the rocky islet which can be seen today. I understand Mason and Holt sold this mill to Bridger and Snell. They sold it to Joseph Reinger who later sold it to the Stack Lumber company. This mill burned about 1904.

located in the south side of what is now Gladstone as the 1845 Survey Notes mention. However, it could not have been of any importance because of the lack of water.

The Naugle Pole and Tie Company had a cedar yard at Masonville. This was run by F. F. Davis who recently died in Escanaba.

There were two cedar yards at Gladstone, MacGillis & Gibbs, which yard is still running, and the Diamond Pole Company, which was near the dock and closed out about 1917.

At what is now called Kipling, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company had a large chemical plant, using hardwood to burn into charcoal.

The next mill was a steam mill built by Napoleon Collett, who later sold to F. W. Gray who sold to Schiable-Madden Company (consisting of Adam Schiable and Jerry Madden). They sold out to the Collins Lumber company. Stone Anderson bought this mill from Collins Lumber Co. and now owns and operates it.

Young and Merrill built a small water power mill on the Taconash River on what is now the Beauchamp farm.

Booth and Warner built a mill across the bay from Gladstone, called Hunters Point, about 1878. It appears that this mill closed in the late '80's. Our Peter Jensen was the tax collector for that district in 1885, and he recalls going there to collect.

Richard Mason and a Mr. Davis built a mill at Gladstone about 1886, which operated until 1900.

Other Wood Plants

The Stack Lumber Company built a mill at Masonville which burned in 1911. Milton Bonz built a Woodware Factory there about 1916 and operated it until 1929.

There was a small water power mill owned by a Mr. Bogardus

Ford River, Cedar River and Menominee as settlements. He was born 90 years ago.

The Ford River

The U. S. Survey Notes called this the "Fort" River, but I cannot find where there was a fort on it. It has been called the Ford for many years.

The first mill was a water powered mill about one mile above the mouth by Silas Billings, George Richards and David Bliss. This mill burned in 1836, having been built in 1845. It was owned by Jos. Peacock and George LeGear at the time it burned. Peacock and LeGear built a steam powered mill on the same site and moved it to the mouth about 1857. They operated it until 1867 when they sold out to John S. McDonald and others, who formed the Ford River Lumber Company. They later built two more mills there and built up a considerable village. Two of these three mills were torn down prior to 1910. The remaining mill was moved to Aloma Bay, Ontario, by James R. Andrews and John McGuire. It was run in Canada for one season, then dismantled and sold for junk. John McGuire had been superintendent of the Ford River Lumber Company at the time it discontinued operations.

The I. Stephenson Company became interested in the Ford River Lumber Co. prior to the discontinuance of operations at Ford River. They took over all the lands owned by the Ford River Company as the hardwood timbers were becoming valuable, and the lands of the two companies were somewhat intermingled, and the E&LS Ry. had been built over what timber was left so it could be hauled to Wells where the I. Stephenson mills were located.

The Ford River Company also owned lands on the Bark River. Mr. Wilson put in dams on the Bark River. The logs from this river were towed to the mill at Ford River. After the company was through on this river the dams were kept in repair and lumbering was carried on by Bergman and Gasman (Ed Bergman and John Gasman) for a number of years. Mr. Gasman passed away sometime ago but Ed Bergman is still living at Bark River.

No Railroads

There never was a rail connection at Ford River. Their products were all shipped out by boat.

T. V. Ward was superintendent, succeeded by John McGuire, Mr. McGregor was woods superintendent, followed by several, among them Wm. Turner.

John Alger was their cruiser, followed by Mr. Golden and others. Among the camp foremen were Wm. Turner, Thomas Beaton, Malcolm McRae, (Haywire) Louis Booth, Ben Baker, Wm. Baker, Peter Golden, Jack Foster, Jack Henderson, Mr. Sears, Mr. Gamelin and Jos. Boileau. Mr. Boileau was in charge of the rear crew on the drive. Mr. John McGinnis was in charge of the drive. I have heard he followed the drive in a dug-out canoe.

Louis Booth later became woods superintendent for the Escanaba Woodenware Company. Mr. Turner became woods superintendent for the National Pole Company. Mr. Henderson held the same position with Mann Brothers.

Among the mill superintendents were Mr. Warner, who left Ford River to become interested with Mr. Both in the mill which they built at Hunters Point across the bay from Gladstone. Mr. Roy Knox, Ben Ross, Ole Nelson and Al Hellman were also mill superintendents.

Many Companies

There were other companies logging on the Ford River, namely Mann Brothers of Two Rivers, Wisconsin; Flanagan and Nelligan, who took out logs for Joseph Fordney of Saginaw, Michigan in 1888 and 1889. Mann Brothers had a mill at Two Rivers and the Fordney logs were sawed at Marquette.

John Nelligan and Flanagan logged for Eddy & Glyn on the Warner Creek and drove the logs down the Whitefish. I think these logs were sawed at Hunters Point Mill across the bay from Gladstone.

Swamping the Wanigan

Mann Brothers also logged on the Whitefish and towed the logs to Two River, Wisconsin where they had a mill.

Wm. J. Miller, now Judge of Probate, was the cook on the Wanigan when the Warner was being driven by Peacock. His father was a camp cook for the same company.

He relates a story about swamping the Wanigan at the mouth of the Warner.

Abe Rodgers was the woods boss for Peacock and John Gallagher was one of the camp foremen. Humphrey Desmond was camp foreman also.

Jerry Madden Shingle Company, who ran the big mill at Rapid River, drove both the Whitefish and the Rapid Rivers and had an operation near Trout Lake on the Soo Line from which the logs were shipped into Rapid River. Tim Cullinan was woods boss at Caffey. Nels Westling was woods superintendent on the rivers. John Angulin, Jos. McDermitt and Leonard Johnson was camp foreman. Also Carl Stenlund, Wm. Beland was bookkeeper.

The Northwestern Cooperage & Lumber Company also drove the Rapid River. A Mr. Jackson was woods superintendent. Peter Ducommun was their cruiser and Jack Burnett and Jack Feeney was camp foreman. Jack Feeney looked after the driving.

John Darrow and August Goodman also logged on the Whitefish.

Also Gus and Alec Roberts, Peter Schultz, Wm. Martin, Mr. Collett, Mr. Ole Johnson, Mr. Dan Wickander, Alex LaFrombols, Monk and Columb, Dan Oberg.

The branches of the Whitefish that were driven were, Bill's Creek, Haymeadow, Pole Creek,

Warner. There were dams on all of these as well as on both branches.

P. W. Murray, who was born on Mackinaw Island when this was known as the Northwest Territory, told me of his father being the first tax collector and walking along the shore of the lake to Menominee to collect taxes. He mentioned Menominee, Nahma, Whitefish, Masonville, Flat Rock,

Gladstone Trims Stephenson, 20-13

Gladstone, Oct. 24—Highlighted by an 89-yard touchdown sprint by Capt. Buddy Clark and a sensational touchdown pass catch by End Jim Schram, the Gladstone Braves scored their sixth victory of the season but were extended to gain a 20-13 margin over a greatly under-rated Stephenson high eleven here at Marble Athletic Field Saturday.

Cappy Keil's Wildcats made it a double victory when they won 28-6 in a preliminary between the reserve teams of the two schools.

The Braves struck with suddenness in the second period. Gaining the ball when the Eagles punted, they started from the 28. Ralph McGeary, who continued to do some nice plumping from the fullback spot, rammed for 7 to the 35 and Young was stopped. Stade passed to Creten for 11 yards. McGeary got four to midfield. Stade dropped back and looped a long one that Schram went up and took away from two defenders on the 20 and trotted to the goal line. The kick for point was blocked and Gladstone led 6-0.

The next came on a sustained 80 yard drive and took only six plays to fashion it. Getting the ball on the 20 when an Eagle punt went into the end zone, McGeary got five. Stade lost a yard and then McGeary ran for 16 to the 40. LaPlant was stopped. Then Creten took a pass on the 33 and ran to the 10 before being downed. Another pass to Creten carried to the one-yard line and McGeary cracked the middle for the score. McGeary kicked the extra point and the Braves were in front 13-0.

The Eagles bounced back and went 70 yards to score. Starting on the 30, Blom went 10 to the 40. Anderson got 9 and Melchoir fumbled for a first down with Jones recovering. Anderson drove for 5 and repeated for 12 and a first down on the 23. Melchoir got 5. Hofer lost 5 and then Hofer took a pass behind the Gladstone secondary and reached pay dirt. A plunge for extra point failed. Gladstone 13; Stephenson 6.

89-Yard Run

After a see-saw third period in which the Eagles threatened to score, Gladstone got the ball on the 8-yard line early in the fourth period. Young got three yards. Clark then rounded left end and raced 89 yards down the sideline for the clincher. He was aided and abetted by Jim Schram who took out the only Eagle with a chance of catching Clark with a beautiful block on the 35 yard line. McGeary again kicked the extra point and Gladstone led 20-6.

Again Stephenson came right back and relinquishing the ball only once when there was an exchange of fumbles went 62 yards with Blom taking a 20-yard pass for the touchdown. Anderson and Hofer did some nice running in the drive. Hofer ran right end for the extra point.

Northern Michigan Bows To Mich. Tech; Hillsdale Unbeaten

(By the Associated Press)

Little Hillsdale college which has only about 800 students today boasted the only undefeated, untied football team in the ranks of Michigan's colleges.

But from that point on, the Marines more than had a ball game in their hands. Escanaba threatened to score late in the second quarter, advancing to the Marinette five, and held the vaunted Marines scoreless in both the second and third periods. An unnecessary roughness penalty and punt that went out of bounds on the Escanaba 33 set up the third Marine TD early in the fourth quarter and the final TD came on the last play of the game.

The Packer fumbles, on the four, the seven and 23-yard lines, led to three of the Los Angeles

The Dales racked up their fifth straight win Saturday as they edged previously unbeaten Hope 7 to 9 in a battle that will figure a lot in the final MIAA standings.

Northern Michigan, the only other undefeated team in the state before Saturday's play, bowed to a surprising Michigan Tech team 27 to 7.

powerful Minnesota.

Even the coaches are hard put to it to explain what makes a team play like the corner lot irregulars against Northwestern one

Saturday and come back the following week with a magnificent spirited game against Minnesota.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan attempts like this:

"Against Northwestern, we lacked the spark and nothing happened to give us that spark."

Well, that's as good a try as any.

But the fact remains that the guy who seriously figured Michigan to win was regarded as either a wishful thinker or a character with holes in his head.

"The spark we needed," said Coach Bennie Oosterbaan

recalling the fabulous exploits of Halfback Chuck Ortmann as Marinette overcame their biggest obstacle since Rhinelander and

on route to an undefeated, unif-ted season when they stopped a stubborn Es-

Hinze Is Twice Named President

Heads U.P. Musicians, Credit Union League

Wellington Hinze of Escanaba was made president twice this week.

Upper Michigan members of the Michigan Credit Union League elected him president of the U.P. chapter at their meeting in Menominee Saturday. Sunday he was elected president of the U.P. chapter of the Federated American Musicians union at the musicians annual meeting in Iron Mountain.

Approximately 100 Upper Peninsula members of the Michigan Credit Union League, including Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Hinze, Jack Bawden, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klasell of Escanaba, attended the meeting in Menominee, in observance of Credit Union Day and the 101st anniversary of the founding of credit unions.

Miss Helen Sanders of Menominee was elected treasurer of the organization; Ed Kehoe of Menominee, vice president; and Albi Waal of Rock, secretary.

Principal speakers were John Kolby, assistant to the managing director of CUA Mutual Insurance society of Madison, and Ed Farrell, Detroit, federal credit union examiner for the Michigan district.

Canadian Musicians

In addition to naming Hinze as president, the U.P. musicians unions elected Henry Lontz of Iron Mountain, vice president; Chester Marchinowski of Stambaugh, secretary-treasurer; and William Anderson of Stambaugh, sergeant-at-arms.

Ray DeGayer of Menominee, returning president, was elected chairman of the executive board, and Willard Clark of Escanaba and James Perino of Iron Mountain were elected to serve with him.

For the first time in the history of the Upper Michigan musicians' conference, representatives of the Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., musicians union were accepted in the conference. Both the president and the secretary were received.

George B. Clancy of Detroit, a member of the International executive board, spoke to the musicians as a personal representative of James Petrillo, national union head. Other speakers were Stanley Ballard of Minneapolis, who is secretary-treasurer of the Mid-West conference of the F.A.M.; Tom Crowley of Windsor, Ont., president of the Windsor federation of musicians; and William Dart of Port Huron, who has been secretary-treasurer of the Port Huron local for 49 years, and for 31 years secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Musicians association, with headquarters at Port Huron.

Escanaba Boy III Of Polio

Rapid River Girl Suspected Case

An Escanaba boy today was reported receiving treatment for polio at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, and a girl from near Rapid River was taken there yesterday as a suspected case.

Dean LaLande, 11, who resides with his sister, Mrs. Harvey Gamble at 2308 Ludington street, first became ill on Oct. 12. Saturday day symptoms developed indicating polio and the boy was taken to St. Luke's hospital at Marquette where the disease was definitely diagnosed as polio.

The suspected case is that of Betty Lockhart, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lockhart of Rapid River Rd. 1, who was taken to Marquette yesterday.

The illness of Dean LaLande brings to a total of 11 the number of polio cases so far reported in Delta county this year, according to Dr. Young's honor held at Douglass Houghton Hall ballroom on the college campus.

ing to the local health department.

Seven of the 11 cases have been in the city of Escanaba, one of which terminated fatally. The first case in the city was in February, followed by several months without another being reported. The second case in the city was on Sept. 22, and the others followed rapidly.

Two of the 11 cases were in Gladstone and there have been on each from Masonville and Eng-

Reports of widespread death and destruction resulting from two weeks of disastrous floods and rains continued to filter into this Central American capital.

In one town, 1,000 children were reported homeless, many of their parents presumably dead. Coffee producers estimated at least 30 per cent of their $33,000,000 crop has been destroyed.

Uncounted thousands of cattle in the rich Pacific coast grazing belt were destroyed. Entire holdings of thousands of pitifully poor

Senate Approves Truman Nominees

Washington (AP) — In sharp contrast to action earlier in the year, the Senate Wednesday confirmed President Truman's nomination of Mon C. Wallgren to be a member of the Federal Power Commission.

In another of its last acts of the session just ended, the Senate confirmed the nomination of James M. Mead to the Federal Trade Commission. Both jobs pay $15,000 a year.

Both men are Democrats who once served with Mr. Truman in the Senate. Wallgren from Washington State and Mead from New York.

Earlier this year, Mr. Truman's nomination of Wallgren to head the National Security Resources Board was bottled up in a Senate committee despite urgent White House requests for action. Critics said Wallgren, an old friend of the president, wasn't qualified to plan the nation's mobilization should war come.

Mr. Truman finally withdrew the nomination.

As a member of the power commission, Wallgren will deal with such matters as regulation of electric utilities.

"Sold the first day" said Jones peasant families have been wiped out.
